

Multiple radio sites communicate back to a single hub site which will then communicate to the central control system via 4G Modem.